LEP ADMISSION FOR CURRENT STUDENTS

Current students, or internal transfers, are students already at the University of Maryland (UMD) who would like to change their major to a Limited Enrollment Program (LEP). Processes differ depending on your major of interest.

- Students interested in Criminology & Criminal Justice or Psychology need to work directly with a department advisor and the College of Behavioral & Social Sciences, once the last required gateway course is completed.
- Students interested in any other LEP, need to apply following the process outlined below, which is managed by the Office of Undergraduate Admissions.

LEP Application Process

Business applicants must complete all coursework by the conclusion of the fall or spring semester (summer coursework will not be reviewed). Only business applicants may submit letters of recommendation (no more than 3) via email to lep@umd.edu, or in-person to the Office of Undergraduate Admissions in the Mitchell Building. The personal statement is within the application and the statement topic may be found below:

■ Personal Statement

Please provide us with your personal statement. In this personal statement, you want to address such questions as: Why are you passionate about business; what about the Smith community appeals to you; what things have you learned in your academic journey; why would you like to be a Smith School of Business student; and any other additional information you would like to share with the review committee.

All applicants are strongly encouraged to review their program's gateway requirements prior to completing the application.

Internal transfer students should complete the LEP application either during the semester in which they complete the required gateway courses or at the end of the semester. This timeline is dependent upon the application deadline for the student's preferred major.

Students applying for the fall semester can complete a gateway course during the summer, at either UMD or another institution. In order to be considered, courses must be taken during, or completed by the end of, UMD's Summer 1

Session. Students applying for the spring semester must complete gateway courses by the end of the fall semester.
